Celebrating Archaeological Archives

The CifA Archaeological Archives Group (AAG) would like to spend this year's day conference and AGM getting back to basics and reminding ourselves why we all get together in the first place - to share good practice and celebrate archaeological archives. We encourage all professionals and students working on archaeological archives to apply.

Tell us your stories about archaeological archives: have you used them to engage the public or specific communities, undertaken art projects, used 3D laser scans to open archives up to new audiences, or created new museum displays or online resources? Have you undertaken a cataloguing project that has opened up new avenues for research or supported a local group to learn about their heritage? How have you used archives in a school setting to engage children with the past? Possible topics may include the above but are not restricted to these.

If you are interested in presenting your work or would like to ask us any questions, please contact us at archaeologicalarchives@gmail.com by our deadline of Friday 14th June.

Speakers will receive a free conference place, including lunch; assistance can also be provided with travel expenses.
