

IfA Archaeological Archives Special Interest Group – Bulletin – September 2014

Evaluating the good practice workshops

The group workshops on Good practice in archaeological archives have now come to an end. These have proven very popular and the feedback has been great- thank you to all of you who have attended.

There is a plenary conference to discuss the workshops, evaluate the findings and think about the future, planned for Wednesday 24 September. To find out the latest information and how to book your places please go to www.archaeologists.net/groups/archives

Ahead of the event the group is looking for ideas on how to take the workshop programme forward, to help those who haven't been able to attend and to act as a resource for the future. Do you have any suggestions or ideas about what form/shape this could take but can't make the above event? If so, please get in touch at archaeologicalarchives@gmail.com.

Committee news

The committee last met on Thursday 4 September 2014. Minutes from this meeting can be found using this link www.archaeologists.net/groups/archives. If you have any matters you would like to raise with the committee then get in touch and e-mail us at archaeologicalarchives@gmail.com We would really like to hear from you!

Following the latest committee meeting two new non-elected roles have been introduced:

Emma Wells – Communications Officer

Sam Paul – Events Coordinator

The group's next AGM is provisionally scheduled for Wednesday 25th March – Venue TBC. Once again the AGM will be held in conjunction with a scheduled event relevant to all of our members so do save the date and try to come along.

Helen Harman will be standing down from the committee by the end of March 2015 leaving 2 available places on the committee. If you are interested in becoming a committee member please e-mail groups@archaeologists.net for more information, to register your interest or for a nomination form.
